Dear Mr Thavasegaran

CERTIFICATE OF FILING
PATENT APPLICATION NO. : PI 2013003080 IN MALAYSIA
TITLE OF INVENTION : METHOD OF CLASSIFYING AND QUANTITATIVELY
ASCERTAINING SEVERITY AND GRADING OF ACNE
LESIONS FROM IMAGE

We refer to your subject application which was filed on 20-Aug-2013.

We enclose herewith the following documents for your attention and retention:-

- a copy of original Certificate of Filing (CoF)
- a copy of original Preliminary Examination - Clear Formalities Report
- a complete Patent Specification as filed
- a copy of Patents Form No.5 (Request for Substantive Examination)

Please take note of all important deadline as indicated herein below. Whilst we shall endeavor to remind you in respect of all deadlines from time to time, we cannot accept responsibility in the event of failure to do so. Hence, we strongly encourage you to mark your own record accordingly.

Due Date to file PCT International phase : 20-August-2014

Due Date to file corresponding foreign application : 20-August-2014

Due Date to request Substantive Examination : Done (Filed on 15-November-2013)

Start Date to request Expedited Examination (optional) : after 18 months from application date (ie from 20-February-2015)

Kuala Lumpur

Kindly also take note of the following points:-

1. Please take note that this patent is filed in Malaysia and the protection is limited to jurisdiction of Malaysia only upon its grant. If you wish to extend your protection of the subject patent in other countries, a separate corresponding application has to be made in the respective countries within the deadline as stipulated herein above, by claiming priority date based on your filing date from your home country. Please contact us so that we may provide you with our quotation.
2. Please be reminded that filing the patent application in overseas countries beyond the stipulated deadline will result in the loss of priority date as well as destroy the novelty of your subject patent.
3. It is also possible to file a PCT Application (International Phase) by claiming priority date based on your priority filing date. However, such application has to be filed within a grace period of twelve (12) months from your priority date through MyIPO as a receiving office. Filing a PCT Application will allow you to enter into other PCT member countries (national phase) before the expiration of 30 months calculated from the priority date. However, please take note that not all countries are the contracting states of PCT. An example of which is Taiwan. Enclosed please find a copy of list of the PCT member countries for your reference. Therefore, if you wish to extend your patent protection in the countries other than PCT member countries, you have to opt for ordinary corresponding foreign application before 12 months of this filing date.
4. Under the Patent (Amendment) Regulations 2011, the applicants can file a request to expedite the examination after 18 months from the priority or filing date by paying additional fee and stating grounds of statement why such expedition is necessary. If the request is approved by the Registrar, the examination reports will be issued within 6 weeks from date of the approval. If the examination report is clear, the straightforward patent application will be granted in approximately 20 months from the date of application. Hence, if you wish to request for expedition examination, please let us have your further instruction.
5. In case you wish to perform any task that has specific deadline, we would appreciate to receive your instruction at least 3 months before the deadline to avoid additional cost incur to you due to urgency of the matter.
6. Please be reminded that your subject patent application is pending for registration. Pursuant to Malaysian Patents Act 1983, the patent applicant is not entitled to sue the infringer in the High court until the patent is granted.
7. Products in accordance with your patent may now be marked with the word "Pat Pending", "patent pending" or "Malaysian Patent Pending no. PI 2013003080".
8. If you have broadened your scope of claims or have made any improvement on your said invention, please contact us to review it to ensure that your patent application is still in line with the protection.
